NOTES FROM LOVELOCK

A Breezy Letter Written by The Journal's Reporter.

LoveLock has been visited by heavy rain storm. The total precipitation for the storm was .86 of an inch. The streets are a sea of mud, considerable of which will be carried away today by the correspondent of The Journal as an unwelcome souvenir. The rain did no damage, but, on the other hand proved a good foundation for the snows of winter on the higher hills.

Several thousand head of cattle are being fed on the LoveLock meadows. The farmers receive a price for feeding which is the same as $6 a ton for the hay in the stack. With the exception of what will be required for feeding, all the hay crop has been disposed of at a good price. The farmers have had a very successful season. Crops were good and the prices of all staples except wheat were very satisfactory.

A number of cattle-buyers are here. Shipments are made every day.

J. D. Flanigan is down from Reno to receive a consignment of sheep for shipment.

Col. Joseph Marzen has had a number of visitors recently who came to inspect his wonderful drove of short-horns and Herefords. He has now about 300 choice thoroughbreds.

The people of LoveLock need not go thirsty. The town is blessed (?) with ten drinking places and another is being built. The presence of this number of saloons is evidence that there is plenty of money in circulation. "Hard times" is an expression that is never heard.

L. Zuman of Reno has opened a place of business here and would be pleased to entertain any of his old friends from the Riverside town who may wander this way.

A Treat in Store.

On the night of November 9th, the beautiful play of "Shore Acres" will be put upon the boards at McKissick's Opera House.

Mr. Grosse, the advance agent of the troupe, is in town in the interest of this play, and announces that James A. Herne's original company will be represented full force. Even the actors and actresses who took the juvenile parts years ago, are still with the troupe, only of course, now cast in the more important roles. Theatre-goers will be given a genuine treat at this presentation of Shore Acres.

A. O. U. W. Reception.

Nearly two hundred strangers were given a hearty welcome at the reception and banquet held in Investment Hall last night by the A. O. U. W.'s and Degree of Honor.

One hundred people came down from Carson and Virginia, and many others arrived from various parts of the State.

Dancing and an all-around good time marked the pleasant features of the party. A royal spread also added to the success of the evening.

A HANDBOME PRESENT.

GREAT FOOTBALL PLAYED BY THE SAGEBRUSH BOYS

Nevada's Colors Go Down to Defeat in the Hardest Fought Game Ever Seen on the Berkeley Campus.

(By Jimmie Giles.)

[Special to The Journal.]
BERKELEY CAMPUS, October 30.

—In the hardest fought game ever seen on the California campus, Nevada and California today met in their annual contest. A crowd of about three thousand and people witnessed the game. The game in the first half was replete with the brilliant work of the Nevada team; California could do nothing with Nevada's rock-wall line in the first half; her only gains were made by end runs under strong interference, and Overall's long punts.

Nevada played as the game can only be played by men thoroughly understanding the game; she could buck California's line and do as she wished.

Second half Nevada kicks off forty yards, California runs in ten yards; California tries buck-falls; California runs Nevada in tracks, loses ball on downs, Nevada kicks thirty yards, California runs in fifteen yards, tries left end but loses three yards. Whipple runs fifty yards to touch-down. Overall kicks goal—score: California six, Nevada nothing.

Nevada kicks forty yards, California runs in twelve yards, California kicks three yards, runs end for fifteen yards, tries left end but loses three yards. Overall kicks forty yards to touch-back. Nevada kicks; Overall tries place-kick from thirty-yard line. Nevada blocks kick.

Nevada's ends were the only weak place—California runs around left end for twenty-five yards; buck twice to touch down. Overall kicks goal.

Score: Nevada, 0; California, 12. Stewart took B. Smith's place, O'Hara relieves Kearney, Percy Leadbetter relieves Cleve Leadbetter in the latter part of the second half.

In the second half Nevada was much worn out and California ran the ends at will. Captain Leadbetter deserves the greatest of praise. All the team did excellent work. Final score California, 12; Nevada, 0.

The Journal Appreciated.

Although our boys were defeated by a score of twelve to nothing in the Berkeley-Nevada football game played on the California University's campus, every account goes to show that the Sagebrush team was the fiercest opponent that ever faced the Berkeley giants. Throughout the entire first half Nevada had things all her own way, and nobody could be found immediately after this half who was willing to bet that Nevada would come out at the small end of the score. But we were defeated, yet nothing but favorable comments can be made as to the brilliant, star game put up by the home team.

Various unauthenticated reports were circulated last evening to the effect that Cleve Leadbetter, Ben Smith and Kearney were more or less injured in the mix-ups, but the telegrams received direct from the campus do not say anything about the boys being injured.

Exactly to the contrary is the account wired by The Journal's regular correspondent, which states that all the Nevada players stayed with the game to the bitter finish, and were even more fresh than the hard-pushed Californians.

Saturday the Nevada eleven are to meet Stanford, and as each team has scored in almost the same ratio against Reliance, a great game is looked for. The most sanguine admirers of the Sagebrushers scarcely hoped for a score against Berkeley, but when the huskies buck against Stanford, they claim we may safely bet on a score in favor of the eleven from the N. S. U.

Following is the line-up of the Berkeley-Nevada game:

California	Position	Nevada
Starr	L. E. R.	Kearney
Albertson	L. T. R.	Riordan
Stow	L. G. R.	C. Smith
Gendotti	Center	Hunter
Overall	R. G. L.	Lawrence
Braley	R. T. L.	Driggs
Womble	R. B. L.	Wright
Hudson	Qtr.	Leadbetter
Min	L. H. R.	Keddie
Whipple	R. H. L.	Smith
More	F. B.	Graham

California gained because Nevada was slow in getting down the field.

Ten minutes before time was called, Womble, by a trick play, skirted Kearney's end, was stopped by Leadbetter after a thirty-yard run, two feet from the line. Min was put through for a touch down; back goals were kicked.

Keddie, Leadbetter, Riordan and C. Smith were particular stars, but every man on the team played splendid ball.

TERSE AND TO THE POINT

Little Bits of Items, but Still Worthy of Mention.

J. J. Linn sunned himself in uninterrupted idleness all day yesterday.

The excavation and foundation work of the new county jail is progressing rapidly.

If you wish a gold filling, gold swaged cast, aluminum combination or rubber plate call on Dr. C. F. Moore.

The paving of Commercial Row attracts a big crowd of spectators throughout all hours of the day.

Harry Goss's workmen are making rapid strides in the digging of the immense cellar for his new hotel.

Sunbonnet babies and Overall boys, twenty and twenty-five cents. Take one home with you.

PORTEUR DECORATIVE CO.

County Clerk Fogg issued a marriage license to Thomas J. Alexander of California, who desired to wed Ella C. Hudson, also of the Golden State.

In a short, hardly played football practice game at the Varsity campus last night, the High School boys defeated the Freshmen team by the small score of 8 to 5.

The steer that John Sparks took to Kansas City, to be exhibited at the Livestock Exhibition won first prize. The animal is from the celebrated herd of Herefords he has in Washoe Valley.

Rusty Coyn's engine No. 2840 was hauled down to the Sacramento shop Wednesday. Rusty's engine was the one that got her trimmings raked off by the wrecker in last Sunday night.

Visiting Comstockers.

Among the ladies who arrived from Virginia City last night to attend the big A. O. U. W. and Degree of Honor jollification held in this city were the Misses Cameron, Mahoney, Demar and O'Connor; and Mesdames Donohue, Sullivan and Shay.

for the last batch of congratulations of which "The Model" Harry Davis has been the recipient lately, then a man has a right to register, a complaint.

Nevertheless, these complications about other Harry Davises will not cause people who know him to give our Harry Davis either the cold shoulder or a premature hand shake.

Prospecting Hindered.

The recent storm has called a slight cessation in active prospecting. The hills have been sticky with mud, but the local assayers say that the last sunny day or two has dried out the gullies and buttes, and business will subsequently improve.

Usually the half dozen assay offices are crowded with work.

Big Returns from Selby's.

About $400,000 in returns has been received by the Topoph Company from the Selby Smelting Works since the shipping of ore was commenced, about seven months ago when a few shipments were made the first two months.

There is over 15,000 sacks of shipping ore on the dumps ready for transportation and over 10,000 tons of second-class ore awaiting the company's investigation as to the most efficient process of reducing the same, which will work at least $75 to the ton. There is by actual count 496 head of horses hauling ore to the railroad and as many more could be employed but there would not be sufficient back freight for that additional number.

Overall got around end for twenty-one yards and again lost the ball.

The half ended with no score and all honors in Nevada's favor.

Soon after the opening of the second half, California got the ball in the middle of the field. By tandem play on tackle, Overall and Whipple got through Riordan and made a touch-down after a fifty-nine yard run. After kick-off, by fast end work and tackle backs, California forced ball to one-yard line, but was put back ten yards for outside play. Overall tried for a field goal, but Smith, Nevada's giant guard, blocked kick, and Nevada got the ball.

Exchange kicks followed in which California gained because Nevada was slow in getting down the field.

Ten minutes before time was called, Womble, by a trick play, skirted Kearney's end, was stopped by Leadbetter after a thirty-yard run, two feet from the line. Min was put through for a touch down; back goals were kicked.

Keddie, Leadbetter, Riordan and C. Smith were particular stars, but every man on the team played splendid ball.

REPUBLICAN SENATORIAL CANDIDACY.

OME of our Republican friends assure us that The Journal was mistaken in its statement that Senator Jones had expressed his intention of contesting for re-election to a seat in the United States Senate. Our information to that effect came from Republican sources which we considered reliable, but which is disputed by others who assert that the Senator's expressed wish for the election of a Republican, and that his influence would be exerted in that direction, was not ground for the inference that he himself proposed to become a candidate. Be that as it may, it certainly would not be fair to criticize a person as a candidate who did not occupy that position. Perhaps, our Republican informants in their zeal made their wish subservient to their thoughts and utterances.

Personally, and to a considerable extent politically, most of the Democrats of Nevada have entertained none but the kindest feelings towards Senator Jones, and they have at a number of elections, when he was a candidate made the way easy for him by running no legislative tickets in many of the counties, even when they were making vigorous contests to carry their State tickets. Such manifestations of political friendship were mainly due to his strenuous efforts in behalf of silver, which they fully appreciated, and they recognized in him the leading champion of a cause which he advocated with such masterful ability as gained for him even more than a national reputation as an authority upon general finance and more especially in its relation with the principle and policy of bimetallism. Such support from his Democratic friends was certainly more sincere and unselfish than is manifested by the Republican politicians of Nevada who are attempting to drag him into a contest for no other purpose than the furtherance of their own political ends.

The humiliating admission of the Senator that "silver is dead" certainly surprised The Journal as it did doubtless those Democratic friends who have stood by him in the past and who believed that he would be the last to abandon a cause which made his senatorial career a success, and which has for more than a quarter of a century secured for him a continuous lease to a seat in the highest legislative body on the face of the earth. It is quite certain that a large majority of the Senator's former supporters do not agree with him in his proclamation of death. While they realize that the present conditions are not favorable for exploiting the measure, they are confident that not only the principle is alive, but that in the evolution of financial events, it will again come to the front, and under such conditions as will insure its adoption and permanent maintenance in the currency system of the nation. That this will come sooner or later, nine-tenths of the bimetallists of the country are firmly convinced, and that it will come within the term of the newly elected Senators of the succeeding year they do not regard as at all unlikely. Nevada at all events will take no chances, but will at least have one representative in the Senate who will not be frightened when the white metal again asserts itself in living form, by the belief that he beholds the ghost of that which he had consigned to an untimely grave.

That the Republican politicians are extremely anxious to induce Senator Jones to enter for another contest is more than apparent, and despite the non-residence objection, that he could come nearer making a winning fight than perhaps any local Republican candidate we fully believe. But "ne'er" would be all and many of those who would feel it their duty to oppose him would sincerely regret that after the laurels won by five consecutive elections the greed of unsympathizing politicians should prompt him to encounter defeat as the finale of his senatorial career.

THE Isthmus CANAL SITUATION.

HERE is no doubt as to the sentiment of the American people that there should be an isthmian canal, permitting vessels to pass from the Atlantic into the Pacific ocean, or the reverse without being compelled to pass around the American continent. Such is not only the present sentiment but has been the past, but obstacles, important or otherwise, have been sufficient to prevent the realization. Such unanimity of sentiment cannot forever be resisted or defeated either by omission or commission, but patience has become well nigh exhausted already. Efforts are being exerted upon the preliminaries by official authority. A commission has been investigating the routes proposed as to their cost and practicability, and has submitted reports. Negotiations have been carried on with Great Britain to determine how treaty conditions can be fairly and honorably overcome; agents of the French company that spent millions of dollars in constructing a proposed waterway, but abandoned it before completion, are said to be about ready for submission. The matter has reached such a stage that it will probably constitute one of the chief matters for consideration at the coming session of Congress, and it is not improbable that definite progress of some sort may be achieved.

The canal question is this. The commission in its preliminary report found that the Nicaragua canal could be constructed for $200,000,000. A large item of cost in this is the great dam of the San Carlos river. The commission in its final report will state that it has found a new location for this dam, which will result in a saving of $5,000,000 or $6,000,000. Figures of increased cost on other items, however, are likely to bring the total cost to nearly $200,000,000. The commission has reported that it will cost $145,342,579 to complete the Panama canal at a width of 150 feet. The Panama canal company is understood to value its concession, work done and machinery on the ground, together with the Panama railroad at $170,000,000. This would make the total for the Panama canal, in case the Panama company got the full value of its property, at its own estimate, $249,342,597. This is nearly $50,000,000 in favor of the Nicaragua route. Even if the Panama company would consent to cut its estimate in two and sell for $53,500,000, the two routes would stand on the same basis as to cost, with a very large majority in congress in favor of the Nicaragua canal. Up to this time the canal commission has been unable to induce the French representatives to make any proposition looking to the complete transfer of their property to the United States, and there must be a complete transfer before the Panama route can be considered. Heretofore a seemingly insurmountable obstacle to the transfer of the Panama property to the United States has been a requirement under the French law that the old stockholders should receive 60 per cent of the net income of the canal.

It is hoped that the end of preliminary negotiations will be reached before the next session of congress shall end that practical work may speedily follow.

THE assassin of President McKinley has paid the legal penalty of his crime. He died obdurate and defiant and he went before his Maker "with all his sins unrepented on his head." Human justice is satisfied and he has gone before the Great Eternal Judge from whose decrees there is no appeal. As the quicklime in his unhallowed grave will soon remove from his body all semblance of humanity, so let his name be erased from the records of the past and the memory of all of the present, and the knowledge of all generations that are to follow.

A Hallowe'en Story

by Albert D. Ayers

Afashionable church in one of America's large cities had for months been without a pastor, when, one Sunday morning, the assistant-pastor announced from the pulpit that upon the following Wednesday evening, at prayer meeting, those who desired to do so would be given an opportunity to publicly ask the Lord to send them a suitable person to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Jones, their last pastor. This announcement seemed to a youth in the audience to augur a most pleasant time, for he remembered that Wednesday was Hallowe'en and that his brother possessed a large and splendid graphophone.

What it was that so occupied the attention of the boys for the next few days, their parents were quite unable to discover. And the boys did not make it known that they spent all of their spare time between Sunday and Wednesday in secretly educating the graphophone for the part it was to act upon the latter evening; and, in the afternoon of that day, they stealthily entered the Church and hid the educated machine in the rear of the gallery and passed a thread by which it could be operated along the wall so that it hung in easy reach of the seats in the rear of the room.

The perpetrators of this plot were not the only ones at prayer meeting that night but they were there early enough to get the seats they wished, near the thread. The meeting opened as usual, the songs and speeches occupying the attention of the audience for about three quarters of an hour. At last, the leader requested that "sentence prayers be offered to the Lord asking him to send a shepherd to lead and guide this, his flock." A few of the best known and most devout members poured forth their fervent supplications.

The schemers saw their chance. One of them pulled the thread, and there proceeded from the back of the room the plaintive petition of a prim and pious old maid sitting on the left of the pulpit. The voice was unmistakable. Several persons familiar with its sound looked surprised and gazed at the old maid on the left, wondering why her voice seemed to come from the back of the room; while she, recognizing her own voice, looked angrily about. However, upon seeing that she was observed, her religious training conquered her temper and she again reverently bowed her head.

Then, from the graphophones came the earnest prayer of a well-known member sitting on the right. At the sound of his own voice, he raised his head in bewilderment; but, as a considerable portion of the congregation were looking steadily in his direction and trying to decipher the strange occurrence, he allowed his piety to overcome his curiosity, and, dropping his head, assumed the attitude of prayer.

On the front seat, his hands clasping his gold-headed cane, his chin resting upon his diamond shirt stud and his eyes closed as if he were holding communion with his Maker, there sat an anomaly—a French Jew, but a staunch Presbyterian. As his own voice rang out clear and full, uttering the sonorous tones of "O, mine Gott, raise us oop a man after thine own heart," he suddenly threw back his head and glowered around in menacing manner. By this time the entire congregation seemed impressed with the idea that something was wrong.

They looked at him whose voice they thought they recognized; yet, his lips were tightly closed, his eyes shone with ferocity and the voice seemed to come from the rear of the church. Seeing so many of his neighbors looking at him, he again bowed his head, taking the posture of one engaged in prayer. Then, from the graphophone came the voice of a well-known deacon and an equally well-known elder, both of whom had died some time before. The audience, fairly astir, had lost all their reverence and were wondering what was the matter, any way. As if to cap the climax, the voice of Dr. Brown, the assistant pastor, rang out strong and pure, but from the back of the room instead of from the pulpit.

It seemed as if this, surely, would satisfy the mysterious intruder. But, no, there was heard, and again from the back of the room, the tender words of the pastor who had resigned and gone to far-off New York praying that God would send a worthy man than he to lead His flock and minister unto these, His people. Even this did not seem to satisfy the mysterious cause of annoyance, and, with an impudence almost astounding, it uttered "rubber: rubber."

Several of the people present started to locate the disturbance and one of the principal participants in the comedy, finding himself in danger of detection, ran into the hall and turned off the gas, while the other took particular pains to remind those around him that it was Hallowe'en, and added that he thought ghosts must be interrupting the meeting. At this, there was a precipitous rush for the door and, in the dark, many chairs were tumbled about and several broken, making a noise that in no way tended to quiet the stampede or lessen the excitement.

After all had departed and the church was quiet and the boys had finally succeeded in stopping their spasms of laughter, they returned and gathered up their graphophone. As they raised it, with the rattle of run down machinery, it faintly murmured "rubber, rubber," and had sense enough to be done with that.

SYRUP OF PIGS

NEVER IMITATED IN QUALITY.

An Excellent Combination.

The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF PIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectively, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package.

NOTORIOUS REPUTATIONS

The Indians of Washoe County are Bad Characters.

The Sheriff's report for October reveals some startling facts in regard to the affairs of the County Bastile.

The number of prisoners received from the 1st of this month up to yesterday was thirty-two, and over half of these were members of the once noble race of red skins. To be exact, according to the books of the Sheriff's office, there were twelve Indians jailed in October and seven carried over from last month. This is a most woful state of affairs, and the query is: To what is it leading?

The total population of dusky inhabitants of Washoe County does not make a half thousand, and a god proportion of this number is either addicted to the rum habit, or naturally bad, even without the goad of a flask of fire-water.

The full amount of time spent in jail by these bad Indians foots up to the astounding number of 545 days, and reckoning the expense of keeping these aborigines at $25 per day, and the actual cost of convicting them at $7.50 per head, the grand total of $278 is reached for this one month of October.

Is it because the Indians are being demoralized by civilization's touch that such a record is made? And is there no possible hope of a little home missionary work putting our Plutes and Washoes on the road to righteousness?

Two mahalas figure conspicuously on the Bastile books, and they have grown familiar with every detail of the "juggling" process. Now when "Carson Peggy" and "Mahala Topsy" are run in for their monthly or semi-monthly offense, they ask no questions, offer no complaints, but march to their haunts with the ease acquired by long continued practice.

For the last six months these dusky maidens have been arrested on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct on an average of twice a month and when it is not twice a month the reason lies in their being in for 30 days at a stretch.

Either more stringent laws should be made for those who deal out whisky to Indians, or the law should be declared off; for, perhaps, if the natives were allowed a free swing at firewater, the craving might decrease according to the old saying that that which we can easily procure loses half its attraction.

An Editor's Motto.

Fred Badger's newspaper motto is: "Lie, steal, drink and swear." When you lie, let it be down to pleasant dreams; when you steal, let it be away from immoral associates; when you drink, let it be pure water; when you swear, let it be to patronize your home paper, pay your subscription, and not send your jobwork away from home.

Building and Loan Talk No. 3.

GET IN ON THE GROUND FLOOR

If you can, of any proposition that you may take an interest in and then you will gain the fullest knowledge of the business and will finally wind up with some of the cream for yourself. An opportunity is now presented for every citizen of Reno to enjoy the above privilege, provided they want to, by participating in the organization of the "Phoenix" in this city. How is this accomplished? Well, we will call a meeting of all stockholders and members, after which they will proceed to select a board of from five to nine directors, out of which board a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and fire insurance agent will be selected. These officers will be considered an advisory board and their particular duties will be to pass on all loans that may be made in this city. The secretary will submit the application for the loan to the president, and a meeting will then be called of all the board members, and an appraisal made. If, after a full and complete investigation, the security is found to be good and the title to the property perfect, the loan will be duly approved. We have to keep your money in action in order to procure the best profits. Our opportunity for doing a conservative and profitable business is not confined to any one locality. We can operate where conditions and opportunities are the best. It is the aim, though, of this organization to make the business in Reno as purely local as possible.

In No. 4 you will learn something of our loaning plan. Note our strong list of head officers: A. A. Watkins (Vice-President of W. W. Montague & Co., and President of San Francisco Board of Trade) President. Charles R. Bishop (Vice-President Bank of California), Vice-President. S. Prentiss Smith (Director Bank of D. O. Mills & Co., Sacramento), Treasurer. Clarence Orgrave (Late Building & Loan Commissioner Montana), Secretary.

For further information see T. W. Griffin, Field Manager, or assistants at Riverside Hotel. Reno payments may be made to the Washoe County Bank. Phoenix Savings, Building and Loan Association, San Francisco, Cal.

Forcesful Sermon Well Spoken.

The Volunteers of America, although represented by a small force in Reno, are doing very good work.

Last night a rousing sermon was preached by the Captain, in which he forcibly expressed how the rights and privileges of the free American people could be either abused or taken advantage of.

From the close listeners, one would imagine his strong arguments sank deep in the hearts of more than one hardened sinner.

When God-fearing men and women brave the stormiest nights, and wade through muddy streets for the purpose of saving a stray sheep, with no thought for their own physical welfare—then we are bound to believe that their noble efforts will be rewarded by a band of faithful followers upon this earth, and a just reward in the great beyond.

Correct Location Blanks.

Location blanks, made out in the most convenient form known, and conforming in every respect with the mining laws of Nevada, can be had at The Journal office. Prospectors, or any one intending to locate a claim or two should take a look at these neat and correct notices of location.

WOMEN AND JEWELS.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Hodgkinson's drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac.

The Palace barber shop on Commercial Row is the handsomest in Reno. It has been thoroughly renovated. Porcelain bath tubs. A North, proprietor.

The Washoe Lunch Counter and bar have built up an immense trade by serving only the best to their patrons. Messrs. Clausen & Block are experienced caterers. t^{tf}
